

Avertment by competent authority sufficient proof.

10. In any proceedings under these Regulations an averment in the information that the competent authority is not satisfied as to any matter shall be sufficient evidence that he has not been satisfied until the contrary is proved.

Powers of Minister to make orders.

11. (1) The Minister may by Order make such provisions as he thinks expedient for prohibiting or regulating, in all cases or any specified classes of cases, and subject to such exception, if any, as may be made by or under the Order, the exportation from The Bahamas, or the carriage coastwise or the shipment as ship's stores of all goods and articles.

(2) The Minister may by Order exempt any goods or class of goods from the provisions of these Regulations.
