(2) When it is provided in this Act that any one is liable to any punishment for doing or omitting any act, every person doing or omitting that act is, subject to the provisions of this Act, guilty of a crime.

[Amended Act 1977/14; Act 1981/17; Act 1989/33]

3. Meaning of "ordinarily resident in the Cook Islands" - For the purpose of this Act, a person shall be deemed to be ordinarily resident in the Cook Islands if-

(a) His home is in the Cook Islands; or

(b) He is residing in the Cook Islands with the intention of residing therein indefinitely;
or

(c) Having resided in the Cook Islands with the intention of establishing his home therein, or with the intention of residing in the Cook Islands indefinitely, he is outside the Cook Islands but has an intention to reside in the Cook Islands indefinitely.

PART I JURISDICTION

4. Application of Act - (1) This Act applies to all offences for which the offender may be proceeded against and tried in the Cook Islands.

(2) This Act applies to all acts done or omitted in the Cook Islands.

5. Persons not to be tried in respect of things done outside the Cook Islands - Subject to the provisions of section 6 of this Act, no act done or omitted outside the Cook Islands is an offence, unless it is an offence by virtue of any provision of this Act or of any other enactment.

6. Place of commission of offence - For the purpose of jurisdiction, where any act or omission forming part of any offence, or any event necessary to the completion of any offence, occurs in the Cook Islands, the offence shall be deemed to be committed in the Cook Islands, whether the person charged with the offence was in the Cook Islands or not at the time of the act, omission, or event.

7. Jurisdiction in respect of crimes on ships or aircraft beyond the Cook Islands - (1) This section applies to any act done or omitted beyond the Cook Islands by any person -

(a) On board any Commonwealth ship; or

(b) On board any Cook Islands aircraft; or

(c) On board any ship or aircraft, if that person arrives in the Cook Islands on that ship or aircraft in the course or at the end of a journey during which the act was done or omitted; or

(d) Being a British subject, on board any foreign ship (not being a ship to which he belongs) on the high seas, or on board any such ship within the territorial waters of any Commonwealth country; or

(e) Being a person ordinarily resident in the Cook Islands, on board any aircraft:

Provided that paragraph (c) of this subsection shall not apply where the act was done or omitted by a person, not being a British subject, on any ship or aircraft for the time being used as a ship or aircraft of any of the armed forces of a country that is not a Commonwealth country.

(2) Where any person does or omits any act to which this section applies, and that act or omission would, if it occurred within the Cook Islands, be a crime under this Act or under any other enactment (whether that enactment was passed before or after the commencement of this Act), the, subject to the provisions of this Act and of that other enactment, he shall be liable on conviction as if the act or omission had occurred in the Cook Islands:

Provided that where any proceedings are taken by virtue of the jurisdiction conferred by this section it shall be a defence to prove that the act or omission would not have been an offence under the law of the country of which the person charged was a national or citizen at the time of the act or omission, if it had occurred in that country.

(3) Where at any place beyond the Cook Islands any person who belongs, or within three months previously has belonged, to any Commonwealth ship does or omits any act, whether on shore or afloat, not being an act or omission to which subsection (1), of this section applies, and that act or omission would, if it occurred within the Cook Islands, be a crime, then this section shall apply in respect of that act or omission in the same manner in all respects as it had occurred on board a Commonwealth ship.

(4) The provisions of this sections shall have the same operation in relation to the Republic of Ireland and to the citizens thereof, and to ships registered therein or belonging thereto, and to persons who belong or have belonged to those ships, and to all other persons on board those ships, as if the Republic of Ireland were a Commonwealth country and as if the citizens thereof were British subjects.

(5) This section shall be read subject to the provisions of section 412 of this Act.

(6) In this section, the expression "British subject" includes a British protected person within the meaning of the British Nationality and Citizenship Act 1948 of the New Zealand Parliament.

(7) Nothing in this section shall apply with respect to any crime against the Shipping Ordinance 1963.

8. Common law offences - No person shall be proceeded against for any criminal offence at common law.

9. Offence under more than one enactment - (1) Where an actor omission constitutes an offence under this Act and under any other Act, the offender may be prosecuted and punished either under this Act or under that other Act.

(2) Where an act or omission constitutes an offence under two or more Acts other than this Act, the offender may be prosecuted and punished under any one of those Acts.

(3) Where an act or omission constitutes an offence under two or more provisions of this Act or of any other Act, the offender may be prosecuted and punished under any one of those provisions.

(4) No one shall be liable on conviction to be punished twice in respect of the same offence.

10. Construction of other Acts - (1) Every Act shall be read and construed as if any offence therein mentioned for which the offender may be prosecuted by information (however the offence may be therein described or referred to) were described or referred to as a crime; and all provisions of this Act relating to crimes generally shall apply to every such offence.

(2) Every commission, Proclamation, warrant, or other document relating to criminal procedure in which offences that are crimes as defined by this Act are described or referred to by any names whatever shall be read and construed as if those offences were therein described and referred to as crimes.

11. Summary Jurisdiction - Nothing in this Act shall be construed to limit or affect in any way any provision made by any other Act for the trial and punishment of offences in a summary way.

PART II PUNISHMENTS

12.-22. [Repealed]

[Repealed Act 1980-81/28]

PART III MATTERS OF JUSTIFICATION OR EXCUSE

23. General rule as to Justifications - (1) All rules and principles of the common law which render any circumstances a justification or excuse for any act or omission, or a defence to any charge, shall remain in force and apply in respect of a charge of any offence, whether under this Act or under any other enactment, except so far as they are altered by or are inconsistent with this Act or any other enactment.

(2) The matters provided for in this Part of this Act are hereby declared to be justifications or excuses in the case of all charges to which they are applicable.

Infancy

24. Children under ten - (1) No person shall be convicted of an offence by reason of any act done or omitted by him when under the age of ten years.

(2) The fact that by virtue of this section any person has not been or is not liable to be convicted of an offence shall not affect the question whether any other person who is alleged to be a party to that offence is guilty of that offence.

25. Children between ten and fourteen - (1) No person shall be convicted of an offence by reason of any act done or omitted by him when of the age of ten but under the age of fourteen years, unless he knew either that the act or omission was wrong or that it was contrary to law.

(2) The fact that by virtue of this section any person has not been or is not liable to be convicted of an offence shall not affect the question whether any other person who is alleged to be a party to that offence is guilty of that offence.

Insanity

26. Insanity - (1) Every one shall be presumed to be sane at the time of doing or omitting any act until the contrary is proved.

(2) No person shall be convicted of an offence by reason of an act done or omitted by him when labouring under natural imbecility or disease of the mind to such an extent as to render him incapable-

(a) Of understanding the nature and quality of the act or omission; or

(b) Of knowing that the act or omission was morally wrong, having regard to the commonly accepted standards of right and wrong.

(3) Insanity before or after the time when he did or omitted the act, and insane delusions, though only partial, may be evidence that the offender was, at the time when he did or omitted the act, in such a condition of mind as to render him irresponsible for the act or omission.

(4) The fact that by virtue of this section any person has not been or is not liable to be convicted of an offence shall not affect the question whether any other person who is alleged to be a party to that offence is guilty of that offence.

Compulsion

27. Compulsion - (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, a person who commits an offence under compulsion by threats of immediate death or grievous bodily harm from a person who in present when the offence is committed that protected from criminal responsibility if he believes at the threats will be carried out and if he is not a party to any association or conspiracy whereby he is subject to compulsion.

(2) Nothing in subsection (1) of this section shall apply where the offence committed is aiding or abetting rapes or is an offence specified in any of the following provisions of this Act, namely:

(a) Section 75 (treason) or section 80 (communicating secrets);

(b) Section 81 (sabotage);

(c) Section 103 (piracy);

(d) Section 104 (piratical acts);

(e) Sections 187 and 188 (murder);

- (f) Section 193 (attempt to murder);
- (g) Section 208 (wounding with intent);
- (h) Subsection (1) of section 209 (injuring with intent to cause grievous bodily harm);
- (i) Section 230 (abduction);
- (j) Section 231 (kidnapping);
- (k) Section 256 (robbery);
- (l) Section 317 (arson).

(3) Where a married woman commits an offence, the fact that her husband was present at the commission of it shall not of itself raise the presumption of compulsion.

Ignorance of law

28. Ignorance of law - The fact that an offender is ignorant of the law is not an excuse for any offence committed by him.

Sentence or Process

29. Execution of sentence, process, or warrant - (1) Every ministerial officer of any Court authorised execute a lawful sentence, and every Superintendent of any prison and every person lawfully assisting any such ministerial officer or Superintendent, is justified in executing the sentence.

(2) Every ministerial officer of any Court duly authorised to execute any lawful process of the Court, whether of a civil or a criminal nature, and every person lawfully assisting him, is justified in executing it and every Superintendent required under the process to receive and detain any person is justified in receiving and detaining him.

(3) Every one duly authorised to execute a lawful warrant issued by any Court or Justice or other person having jurisdiction to issue the warrant, and every person lawfully assisting him, is justified in executing the warrant; and every Superintendent required under the warrant to receive and detain any person is justified in receiving and detaining him.

30. Execution of erroneous sentence or process - If a sentence is passed or a process is issued by a Court having jurisdiction under any circumstances to pass such a sentence or issue such a process, or if a warrant is issued by a Court or person having jurisdiction under any circumstances to issue such a warrant, the sentence passed or process or warrant issued shall be sufficient to justify the execution of it by every officer, Superintendent, or other person authorised to execute it, and by every person lawfully assisting him, notwithstanding that-

(a) The Court passing the sentence or issuing the process had no authority to pass that sentence or issue that process in the particular case; or

(b) The Court or other person issuing the warrant had no jurisdiction to issue it, or exceed its or his jurisdiction in issuing it, in the particular case.

31. Sentence or process without Jurisdiction - (1) Every officer, superintendent, or person executing any sentence, process, or warrant, and every person lawfully assisting him, shall be protected from criminal responsibility if-

(a) He acts in good faith under the belief that the sentence or process was that of a Court having jurisdiction, or, as the case may be, that the warrant was that of a Court, Justice, or other person having authority to issue warrants; and

(b) It is proved that the person passing the sentence or issuing the process acted as such a Court under colour of having some appointment or commission lawfully authorising him to act as such a Court, or, as the case may require, that the person issuing the warrant acted as a Justice or other person having authority to do so.

(2) This section shall apply notwithstanding that, in fact,-

(a) Any such appointment or commission an aforesaid did not exist or had expired; or

(b) The Court or the person passing the sentence or issuing the process was not the Court or the person authorised by the appointment or commission to act; or

(c) The person issuing the warrant was not duly authorised to issue it.

32. Irregular warrant or process - (1) Every one acting under a warrant or process that is bad in law on account of some defect in substance or in form, apparent on the face of it, shall be protected from criminal responsibility to the same extent and subject to the same provisions as if the warrant or process were good in law if in good faith and without culpable ignorance or negligence he believed that the warrant or process was good in law; and ignorance of the law shall in this case be an excuse.

(2) It is a question of law whether the facts of which there is evidence do or do not constitute culpable ignorance or negligence in his so believing the warrant or process to be good in law.

Arrest

33. Arresting the wrong person - (1) Every one duly authorised to execute a warrant to arrest who thereupon arrests a person, believing in good faith and on reasonable and probable grounds that he is the person named in the warrant, shall be protected from criminal responsibility to the same extent and subject to the same provisions as if the person arrested had been the person named in the warrant.

(2) Every one called on to assist the person making such arrest, and believing that the person in whose arrest he is called on to assist is the person for whose arrest the warrant is issued, and every Superintendent who is required to receive and detain the person arrested, shall be protected from criminal responsibility to the same extent and subject to the same provisions as if the person arrested had been the person named in the warrant.

34. Arrest by constable pursuant to statutory powers - Every constable is justified in arresting any person without warrant in accordance with the provisions of section 338 of this Act or in accordance with any other enactment conferring on him a power so to arrest.

35. Arrest by constable of person believed to have committed offence - where under any enactment any constable has power to arrest without warrant any person who has committed an offence, the constable is justified in arresting without warrant any person whom he believes, on reasonable and probable grounds, to have committed that offence, whether or not the offence has in fact been committed, and whether or not the arrested person committed it.

36. Arrest by other officers or persons pursuant to statutory powers - Every officer or other person, not being a constable, who is authorised by any enactment to arrest any person without warrant is justified in so arresting any person in accordance with the provisions of that enactment.

37. Persons assisting constable or officer in arrest - (1) Every one called upon by a constable to assist him in the arrest of any person believed or suspected to have committed any offence is justified in assisting unless he knows that there is no reasonable ground for the belief or suspicion.

(2) Where by any enactment it is provided that any officer or person, not being a constable, may call upon any other person to assist him in arresting without warrant any one who has committed or is found committing any offence every person so called upon is justified in assisting unless he knows that there is no reasonable ground for believing that the person to be arrested has committed the offence.

38. Arrest of persons found committing certain crimes - Every one is justified in arresting without warrant-

(a) Any person whom he finds committing any offence against this Act that is punishable by death or for which the maximum punishment is not less than three years' imprisonment;

(b) Any person whom he finds by night committing any offence against this Act.

39. Arrest of person believed to be committing crime by night - Every one is protected from criminal responsibility for arresting without warrant any person whom he finds by night in circumstances affording reasonable and probable grounds for believing that that person is committing an offence against this Act.

40. Arrest after commission of certain crimes - Where any offence against this Act has been committed, every one who believes, on reasonable and probable grounds, that any person has committed that offence is protected from criminal responsibility for arresting that person without warrant, whether or not that person committed the offence.

41. Arrest during flight - (1) Every one is protected from criminal responsibility for arresting without warrant any person whom he believes, on reasonable and probable grounds, to have committed an offence against this Act, and to be escaping from and to be freshly pursued by any one whom he believes, on reasonable and probable grounds, to have lawful authority to arrest that person for the offence.

(2) This section shall apply whether or not the offence has in fact been committed, and whether or not the arrested person committed it.

Use of Force

42. Force used in executing process or in arrest -Where any person is justified, or protected from criminal responsibility, in executing or assisting to execute any sentence, warrant, or process, or in making or assisting to make any arrest, that justification or protection shall extend and apply to the use by him of such force as may be necessary to overcome any force used in resisting such execution or arrest, unless the sentence, warrant, or process can be executed or the arrest made by reasonable means in a less violent manner:

Provided that, except in the case of a constable or person called upon by a constable to assist him, this section shall not apply where the force used is intended or likely to cause death or grievous bodily harm.

43. Preventing escape or rescue - (1) Where any person is lawfully authorised to arrest or to assist in arresting any other person, or is justified in or protected from criminal responsibility for arresting or assisting to arrest any other person, that authority, justification or protection, as the case may be, shall extend and apply to the use of such force as may be necessary-

(a) To prevent the escape of that other person if he takes to flight in order to avoid arrest;
or

(b) To prevent the escape or rescue of that other person after his arrest -

unless in any such case the escape or rescue can be prevented by reasonable means in a less violent manner:

Provided that, except in the case of a constable or a person called upon by a constable to assist him, this subsection shall not apply where the force used is intended or likely to cause death or grievous bodily harm.

(2) Where any inmate of a prison is attempting to escape from lawful custody, or is fleeing after having escaped therefrom, every constable, and every person called upon by a constable to assist him, is justified in using such force as may be necessary to prevent the escape of or to recapture the inmate, unless in any such case the escape can be prevented or the recapture effected by reasonable means in a less violent manner.

44. Prevention of suicide or certain offences - Everyone is justified in using much force as may be reasonably necessary in order to prevent the commission of suicides or the commission of an offence which would be likely to cause immediate and serious injury to the person or, property of any one, or in order to prevent any act being do which he believes, on reasonable grounds, would, if committed, amount to suicide or to any such offence.

Breach of the Peace

45. Preventing breach of the peace - (1) Every one who witnesses reach of the peace is justified in interfering to prevent its continuance or renewal, and may detain any person committing it, in order to give him into the custody of a constable:

Provided that the person interfering shall use no more force than is reasonably necessary for preventing the continuance or renewal of the breach of the peace, or than is reasonably proportionate to the danger to be apprehended from its continuance or renewal.

(2) Every constable who witnesses a breach of the peace, and every person lawfully assisting him, is justified in arresting any one whom he finds committing it.

(3) Every constable is justified in receiving into custody any person given into his charge, as having been a party to a breach of the peace, by one who has witnessed it or whom the constable believes on reasonable and probable grounds to have witnessed it.

46. Suppression of riot - Every one is justified in using such force as is necessary to suppress a riot, if this force used is not disproportionate to the danger to be apprehended from the continuance of the riot.

47. Suppression of riot by Police - The senior member of the Police for the time being acting at the place of any riot is justified in using and ordering to be used, and every constable is justified in using, such force an he believes, in good faith and on reasonable and probable grounds, to be necessary to suppress the riot, not being disproportionate to the danger which he believes, on reasonable and probable grounds, is to be apprehended from the continuance of the riot.

48. Suppression of riot by persons acting under lawful orders - (1) Every one acting in good faith in obedience to orders for the suppression of any riot given by the senior member of the Police for the time being acting at the place of the riot is justified in obeying the orders so given, unless those orders are manifestly unlawful; and is protected from criminal responsibility for using such force as he believes, on reasonable and probable grounds, to be necessary for carrying those orders into effect.

(2) It is a question of law whether any particular order is manifestly unlawful or not.

49. Suppression of riot by persons without orders - Every one who believes, in good faith and on reasonable and probable grounds, that serious mischief will arise from a riot before there is time to procure the intervention of the Police, is justified in using such force as he believes, in good faith and on reasonable and probable grounds, to be necessary to suppress the riot, not being disproportionate to the danger which he believes, on reasonable grounds, is to be apprehended from the continuance of the riot.

Defence Against Assault

50. Self-defence against unprovoked assault - (1) Everyone unlawfully assaulted, not having provoked the assault, is justified in repelling force by force, if the force he uses-

- (a) Is not meant to cause death or grievous bodily harm; and
- (b) Is no more than is necessary for the purpose of self-defence.

(2) Everyone unlawfully assaulted, not having provoked the assault, is justified in repelling force by force although in so doing he causes death or grievous bodily harm, if-

- (a) He causes it under reasonable apprehension of death or grievous bodily harm from the violence with which the assault was originally made or with which the assailant pursues his purpose; and
- (b) He believes, on reasonable grounds, that he cannot otherwise preserve himself from death or grievous bodily harm.

[Repealed Act 1981/17. Status uncertain - Act 1989/33]

51. Self-defence against provoked assault - Everyone who has assaulted another without justification, or has provoked an assault from that other, may nevertheless justify force used after the assault if-

- (a) He used the force under reasonable apprehension of death or grievous bodily harm from the violence of the party first assaulted or provoked and in the belief, on reasonable grounds, that it was necessary for his own reservation from death or grievous bodily harm; and
- (b) He did not begin the assault with intent to kill or do grievous bodily harm and did not endeavour, at any time before the necessity for preserving himself arose, to kill or do grievous bodily harm; and
- (c) Before the force was used, he declined further conflict and quitted or retreated from it as far as was practicable.

[Repealed Act 1981/17. Status uncertain - Act 1989/33]

52. Provocation defined - Provocation within the meaning of section 50 and 51 of this Act may be by blows, words or gestures.

63. Surgical operations - Every one is protected from criminal responsibility for performing with reasonable care and skill any surgical operation upon any part for his benefits, if the performance of the operation was reasonable, having regard to the patient's state at the time and to all the circumstances of the case.

General Provisions

64. Excess of force - Every one authorised by law to use force is criminally responsible for any excess, according to the nature and quality of the act that constitutes the excess.

65. Consent to death - No one has a right to consent to the infliction of death upon himself; and, if any person is killed, the fact that he gave any such consent shall not affect the criminal responsibility of any person who is a party to the killing.

66. Obedience to as facto law - Every one is protected from criminal responsibility for any act done in obedience to the laws for the time being made and enforced by those in possession de facto of the sovereign power in and over the place where the act is done.

67. Other enactments not affected - Nothing in this Act shall take away or diminish any authority given by any other enactment to arrest, detain, or put any restraint on any person

PART IV PARTIES TO THE COMMISSION OF OFFENCES

68. Parties to offences - (1) Every one is a party to and guilty of an offence who-

- (a) Actually commits the offence; or
- (b) Does or omits an act for the purpose of aiding any person to commit the offences; or
- (c) Abets any person in the commission of the offence; or
- (d) Incites, counsels, or procures any person to commit the offence.

(2) Where two or more persons form a common intention to prosecute any unlawful purposes and to assist each other therein, each of them is a party to every offence committed by any one of them in the prosecution of the common purpose if the commission of that offence was known to be a probable consequence of the prosecution of the common purpose.

69. Husband and wife conspiring - A man shall be capable of conspiring with his wife, or with his wife and any other person; and a woman shall be capable of conspiring with her husband, or with her husband and any other person.

70. Party to murder outside the Cook Islands - (1) Except as hereinafter provided, every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who, in the Cook Islands, incites, counsels, or procures the doing or omission of an act outside the Cook Islands which, if done or omitted in the Cook Islands would be murder.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years who, in the Cook Islands, incites, counsels, or attempts to procure the doing or omission of an act outside the Cook Islands which, if done or omitted in the Cook Islands, would be murder, when no such act is in fact done or omitted.

71. Party to any other crime outside the Cook Islands - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who, in the Cook Islands aids, incites, counsels, or procures the doing or omission outside the Cook Islands, by any person not owing allegiance to Her Majesty the Queen in right of New Zealand, of any act which, if done or omitted outside the Cook Islands by a person owing such allegiance, would be any of the crimes of treason, inciting to mutiny, or communicating secrets, as specified in sections 75, 79, and 80 of this Act.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years who, in the Cook Islands, incites, counsels, or attempts to procure the doing or omission outside the Cook Islands of any act which, if done or omitted in the Cook Islands, would be any such crime as aforesaid, when that act is not in fact done or omitted.

(3) Every one who, in the Cook Islands, aids, incites, counsels, or procures the doing or omission outside the Cook Islands of any act (not being an act to which the foregoing provisions of this section apply) which, if done or omitted in the Cook Islands, would be a crime other than murder, is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding that proscribed for the crime, or seven years, whichever is the less:

Provided that it shall be a defence to a charge under this subsection to prove that the doing or omission of the act to which the charge relates was not an offence under the law of the place where it was, or was to be done or omitted.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this Act, no one be convicted of inciting, counselling, or attempting to procure in the Cook Island the doing or omission of an act outside Cook Islands when that act is not in fact done or omitted.

72. Offence committed other than offence intended - (1) Every one who incites, counsels, or procures another to be a party to an offence of which that other is afterwards guilty is a party to that offence, although it may be committed in a way different from what which was incited, counselled, or suggested.

(2) Every one who incites, counsels, or procures another to be a party to an offence is a party to every offence which that other commits in consequence of such inciting, counselling, or procuring, and which the first-mentioned person knew to be likely to be committed in consequence thereof.

73. Accessory after the fact - (1) An accessory after the fact to an offence is one who, knowing any person to have been a party to the offence, receives, comforts, or assists that person or tampers with or actively suppresses any evidence against him, in order to enable him to escape arrest or to avoid arrest or conviction.

(2) No married person whose spouse has been a party to an offence shall become an accessory after the fact to that offence by doing any act to which this section applies in order to enable the spouse, or the spouse and any other person who has been a party to the offence, to escape after arrest or to avoid arrest or conviction.

74. Attempts - (1) Every one who, having an intent to commit an offence, does or omits an act for the purpose of accomplishing his object, is guilty of an attempt to commit the offence intended, whether in the circumstances it was possible to commit the offence or not.

(2) The question whether an act done or omitted with intent to commit an offence is or is not only preparation for the commission of that offence, and too remote to constitute an attempt to commit it, is a question of law.

(3) An act done or omitted with intent to commit an offence may constitute an attempt if it is immediately or proximately connected with the intended offence, whether or not there was any act unequivocally showing the intent to commit that offence.

PART V CRIMES AGAINST PUBLIC ORDER

(4) Where death is in part caused by an unlawful act and in part by an omission, the period shall be reckoned inclusive of the day on which the last unlawful act took place or the omission ceased, whichever happened last.

183. Killing by influence on the mind - No one is criminally responsible for the killing of another by any influence on the mind alone, except by wilfully frightening a child under the age of sixteen years or a sick person, nor for the killing of another by any disorder or disease arising from such influence, except by wilfully frightening any such child as aforesaid or a sick person.

184. Acceleration of death - Every one who by any act or omission causes the death of another person kills that person, although the effect of the bodily injury caused to that person was merely to hasten his death while labouring under some disorder or disease arising from some other cause.

185 Causing death that might have been prevented - Every one who by any act or omission causes the death of another person kills that person, although death from that cause might have been prevented by resorting to proper means.

186. Causing injury the treatment of which causes death - Every one who causes to another person any bodily injury, in itself of a dangerous nature, from which death results, kills that person, although the immediate cause of death be treatment, proper or improper, applied in good faith.

Murder, Manslaughter etc.

187. Murder defined - Culpable homicide is murder in each of the following cases:

- (a) If the offender means to cause the death of the person killed;
- (b) If the offender means to cause to the person killed any bodily injury that is known to the offender to be likely to cause death, and is reckless whether death ensues or not;
- (c) If the offender means to cause death, or, being so reckless as aforesaid, means to cause such bodily injury as aforesaid to one person, and by accident or mistake kills another person, though he does not mean to hurt the person killed;
- (d) If the offender for any unlawful object does an act that he knows to be likely to cause death, and thereby kills any person, though he may have desired that his object should be effected without hurting any one.

188. Further definition of murder - (1) Culpable homicide is also murder -in each of the following cases, whether the offender means or does not mean death to ensue, or knows or does not know that death is likely to ensue:

- (a) If he means to cause grievous bodily injury for the purpose of facilitating the commission of any of the offences mentioned in subsection (2) of this section, or facilitating the flight or avoiding the detection of the offender upon the commission or attempted commission thereof, or for the purpose of resisting lawful apprehension in respect of any offence whatsoever, and death ensues from such injury;
- (b) If he administers any stupefying or overpowering thing for any of the purposes aforesaid, and death ensues from the effects thereof;
- (c) If he by any means wilfully stops the breath of any person for any of the purposes aforesaid, and death ensues from such stopping of breath.

- (d) Section 104 (piratical acts);
- (e) Sections 129 to 132 (escape or rescue from prison or lawful custody or detention);
- (f) Section 140 (rape);
- (g) Section 187 (murder);
- (h) Section 230 (abduction);
- (i) Section 231 (kidnapping);
- (j) Section 256 (robbery);
- (k) Section 263 (burglary);
- (l) Section 317 (arson).

189. Provocation - (1) Culpable homicide that would otherwise be murder may be reduced to manslaughter if the person who caused the death did so under provocation.

(2) Anything done or said may be provocation if,-

- (a) In the circumstances of the case it was sufficient to deprive a person having the power of self-control of an ordinary person, but otherwise having the characteristics of the offender, of the power of self-control; and
- (b) It did in fact deprive the offender of the power of self-control and thereby induced him to commit the act of homicide.

(3) Whether there is any evidence of provocation is a question of law.

(4) Whether, if there is evidence of provocation, the provocation was sufficient as aforesaid, and whether it did in fact deprive the offender of the power of self-control and thereby induced him to commit the act of homicide, are questions of fact.

(5) No one shall be held to give provocation to another by lawfully exercising any power conferred by law, or by doing anything which the offender incited him to do in order to provide the offender with an excuse for killing or doing bodily harm to any person.

(6) This section shall apply in any case where the provocation was given by the person killed, and also in any case where the offender, under provocation given by one person by accident or mistake killed another person.

(7) The fact that by virtue of this section one party to a homicide has not been or is not liable to be convicted of murder shall not affect the question whether the homicide amounted to murder in the case of any other party to it.

190. Illegal arrest may be evidence of provocation - An illegal rest shall not necessarily reduce the offence from murder to manslaughter; but if the illegality was known to the offender it may be evidence of provocation.

191 Manslaughter - Except as provided in section 198 of this Act, culpable homicide not amounting to murder is manslaughter.

192. Punishment of murder - Every one who commits murder shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to imprisonment for life.

193. Attempt to murder - Every one who attempts to commit murder is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

195. Conspiracy to murder - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years who conspires or agrees with any person to murder any other person, whether the murder is to take place in the Cook Islands or elsewhere.

(2) For the purposes of this section, the expression "to murder" includes to cause the death of another person out of the Cook Islands in circumstances that would amount to murder if the act were committed in the Cook Islands.

196. Accessory after the fact to murder - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who is an accessory after the fact to murder.

197. Punishment of manslaughter - Every one who commits manslaughter is liable to imprisonment for life.

198. Infanticide - (1) Where a woman causes the death of any child of hers under the age of ten years in a manner that amounts to culpable homicide, and where at the time of the offence the balance of her mind was disturbed, by reason of her not having fully recovered from the effect of giving birth to that or any other child, or by reason of the effect of lactation, or by reason of any disorder consequent upon childbirth or lactation, to such an extent that she should not be held fully responsible, she is guilty of infanticide, and not of murder or manslaughter, and is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

(2) Where upon the trial of a woman for the murder or manslaughter of any child of hers under the age of ten years there is evidence that would support a verdict of infanticide, the jury or the Court as the case may be may return such a verdict instead of a verdict of murder or manslaughter, and the accused shall be liable accordingly. Subsection (2) of section 354 of this Act shall be read subject to the provisions of this subsection, but nothing in this subsection shall affect the power of the jury or the Court as the case may be under that section to return a verdict of manslaughter.

(3) Where upon the trial of a woman for infanticide, or for the murder or manslaughter of any child of hers under the age of ten years, the jury are, or, as the case may be, the Court is, of opinion that at the time of the alleged offence the balance of her mind was disturbed, by reason of her not having fully recovered from the effect of giving birth to that or any other child, or by reason of the effect of lactation, or by reason of any disorder consequent upon childbirth or lactation, to such an extent that she was insane, the jury or the Court as the case may be shall return a special verdict of acquittal on account of insanity caused by childbirth.

(4) Where the jury or the Court as the case may be return a special verdict under subsection (3) of this section, the Judge shall order that the woman be examined by two medical officers, and, the following provisions shall apply:

(a) If each of the medical officers certifies that the woman is no longer insane and that she is in no need of care and treatment in any institution, the Judge shall order that the woman be discharged from custody forthwith;

(b) If each of the medical officers certifies that the woman is no longer insane and that she is in no need of care and treatment in any institution, the Judge shall order that the woman be discharged from custody forthwith;

(c) Unless each of the medical officers certifies as aforesaid, the Judge shall make an order for medical custody pursuant to section 576 of the Cook Islands Act 1915, and at the same time he shall issue a warrant for removal to New Zealand pursuant to section 582 of that said Act, and thereupon the provisions of sections 584 to 587 (both inclusive) of that said Act shall apply.

(7) Nothing in this section shall affect the power of the jury or the Court as the case may be, upon the trial of any woman for infanticide or for murder or manslaughter, to return a verdict, otherwise than under this section, of acquittal on account of insanity; and where any such verdict is returned the provisions of sections 591 to 593 (both inclusive) of the Cook Islands Act 1915 shall apply accordingly.

(8) The fact that by virtue of this section any woman has not been or is not liable to be convicted of murder or manslaughter, whether or not she has been or is liable to be convicted of infanticide, shall not affect the question whether the homicide amounted to murder or manslaughter in the case of any other party to it.

199. Aiding and abetting suicide - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who-

(a) Incites, counsels, or procures any person to commit suicide, if that person commits or attempts to commit suicide in consequence thereof; or

(b) Aids or abets any person in the commission of suicide.

200. Suicide pact - (1) Every one who in pursuance of a suicide pact kills any other person is guilty of manslaughter and not of murder, and is liable accordingly.

(2) Where two or more persons enter into a suicide pact and in pursuance of it one or more of them kills himself, any survivor is guilty of being a party to a death under a suicide pact contrary to this subsection and is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years; but he shall not be convicted of an offence against section 199 of this Act.

(3) For the purposes of this section the term "suicide pact" means a common agreement between two or more persons having for its object the death of all of them, whether or not each is to take his own life; but nothing done by a person who enters into a suicide pact shall be treated as done by him in pursuance of the pact unless it is done while he has the settled intention of dying in pursuance of the pact.

(4) It shall be for the person charged to prove that by virtue of subsection (1) of this section he is not liable to be convicted of murder, or that by virtue of subsection (2) of this section he is not liable to be convicted of an offence against section 199 of this Act.

(5) The fact that by virtue of this section any person who in pursuance of a suicide pact has killed another person has not been or is not liable to be convicted of murder shall not affect the question whether the homicide amounted to murder in the case of a third person who is a party to the homicide and is not a party to the suicide pact.

201. Concealing dead body of child - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years who disposes of the dead body of any child in any manner with intent to conceal the fact of its birth, whether the child died before, or during, or after birth.

Abortion

202. Killing unborn child - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who causes the death of any child that has not become a human being in such a manner that he would have been guilty of murder if the child had become a human being.

(2) No one is guilty of any crime who before or during the birth of any child causes its death by means employed in good faith for the preservation of the life of the mother.

203. Procuring abortion by drug or instrument - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who, with intent to procure the miscarriage of any woman or girl, whether she is with child or not,

(a) Unlawfully administers to or causes to be taken by her any poison or any drug or any noxious thing; or

(b) Unlawfully uses on her any instrument.

(2) The woman or girl shall not be charged as a party to an offence against this section.

204. Procuring abortion by other means - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years who, with intent to procure the miscarriage of any woman or girl, whether she is with child or not, unlawfully uses on her any means whatsoever, not being means to which section 203 of this Act applies.

(2) The woman or girl shall not be charged as a party to an offence against this section.

205. Female procuring her own Miscarriage - Every woman or girl is liable to imprisonment exceeding three years who with intent to procure miscarriage, whether she is with child or not,-

(a) Unlawfully administers to herself, or permits to be administered to her, any poison or any drug or any noxious thing; or

(b) Unlawfully uses on herself, or permits to be used on her, any instrument; or

(c) Unlawfully uses on herself, or permits to be used on her, any other means whatsoever.

206. Supplying means of procuring abortion - Everyone is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years who unlawfully supplies or procures any poison or any drug or any noxious thing, or any instrument or other thing, whether of a like nature or not, believing that it is intended to be unlawfully used to procure miscarriage.

207. Effectiveness of means used immaterial - The provisions of sections 203 to 206 of this Act shall apply whether or not the poison, drug, thing, instrument, or means administered, taken, used, supplied, or procured was in fact capable of procuring miscarriage.

Assaults and Injuries to the Person

208. Wounding with intent - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who, with intent to cause grievous bodily harm to any one, wounds, maims, disfigures, or causes grievous bodily harm to any person.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who, with intent to injure any one, or with reckless disregard for the safety of others, wounds, maims, disfigures, or causes grievous bodily harm to any person.

209. Injuring with intent - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years who, with intent to cause grievous bodily harm to any one, injures any person

(2) Everyone is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years who, with intent to injure any one, or with reckless disregard for the safety of others, injures any person.

210. Injuring by unlawful act - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years who injures any other person in such circumstances that if death had been caused he would have been guilty of manslaughter.

211. Aggravated wounding or injury - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who with intent-

(a) To commit or facilitate the commission of any crime; or

(b) To avoid the detection of himself or of any other person in the commission of any crime; or

(c) To avoid the arrest or facilitate the flight of himself or of any other person upon the commission or attempted commission of any crime-

wounds, maims, disfigures, or causes grievous bodily harm to any person, or stupefies or renders unconscious any person, or by any violent means renders any person incapable of resistance.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who, with any such intent as aforesaid, injures any person.

212. Aggravated assault - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years who assaults any other person with intent-

(a) To commit or facilitate the commission of any crime; or

(b) To avoid the detection of himself or of any other person in the commission of any crime; or

(c) To avoid the arrest or facilitate the flight of himself or of any other person upon the commission or attempted commission of any crime.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years who assaults any constable or any person acting in aid of any constable, or any person in the lawful execution of any process, with intent to obstruct the person so assaulted in the execution of his duty.

213. Assault with intent to injure - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years who, with intent to injure any one, assaults any person.

214. Assault on a child, or by a male on a female - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years who-

(a) Assaults any child under the age of fourteen years; or

(b) Being a male, assaults any female.

215. Cruelty to a child - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years who, having the custody, control, or charge of any child under the age of sixteen years, wilfully ill-treats or neglects the child, or wilfully causes or permits the child to be ill-treated, in a manner likely to cause him unnecessary suffering, actual bodily harm, injury to health, or mental disorder or disability.

216. Common assault - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year who assaults any other person.

217. Award of part of fine as compensation to party injured by assault - (1) Where under this Act any person is convicted of any assault and the Court is satisfied that the assault-

(a) Was wanton and unprovoked; and

(b) Was attended with bodily injury to the person assaulted or with injury to his clothes, or with injury to any property then in his immediate personal custody; and where in any such case a fine is imposed on the offender, the Court, in its discretion, may award to the person assaulted, by way of compensation, any portion, not exceeding half, of the fine so imposed.

(2) In any case, the order of the Court shall be a sufficient authority to the Registrar receiving the fine for the payment of the portion so awarded to the person assaulted.

(3) The award of any portion of a fine under this section shall not affect the right of the person assaulted or of any other person to recover by civil proceedings any damages in excess of the amount so awarded.

218. Assaulting or resisting constables etc. - If any person resists or assaults or wilfully obstructs, or invites or encourages any person to resist, assault, or obstruct, any constable in the execution of his duty, or any person acting in aid of such constable, such person may be taken into custody without warrant by any constable, and on conviction shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or a fine riot exceeding one hundred dollars.

219. Disabling - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years who, wilfully and, without lawful justification or excuse, stupefies or renders unconscious any other person.

220. Discharging firearm or doing dangerous act with intent - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who, with intent to do grievous bodily harm,-

(a) Discharges any firearm, airgun, or other similar weapon at any person; or

(b) Sends or delivers to any person, or puts in any place, any explosive or injurious substance or device; or

(c) Sets fire to any property.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who, with intent to injure, or with reckless disregard for the safety of others, does any of the acts referred to in subsection (1) of this section.

221. Acid throwing - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who, with intent to injure or disfigure any one, throws at or applies to any person any corrosive or injurious substance.

222. Poisoning with intent - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who, with intent to cause grievous bodily harm to any one, administers to or causes to be taken by any person any poison or other noxious substance.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years who, with intent to cause inconvenience or annoyance to any one, or for any unlawful purpose, administers to, or causes to be taken by, any person any poison or other noxious substance.

223. Infecting with disease - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who wilfully and without lawful justification or excuse, causes or produces in any other person any disease or sickness.

224. Setting traps, etc. - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years who, with intent to injure, or with reckless disregard for the safety of others, sets or places or causes to be set or placed any trap or device that is likely to injure any person.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years who, being in occupation or possession of any place where any such trap or device has been set or placed, knowingly and wilfully permits it to remain there in such a condition that any person is likely to be injured by it.

225. Endangering transport - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who, with intent to injure or to endanger the safety of any person,-

(a) Removes anything from or places anything on, in, over, or under any place, or any area of water, that is used for or in connection with the carriage of persons or of goods by land, water, or air; or

(b) Does anything to any property that is used for or in connection with the carriage of persons or of goods by land, water, or air; or

(c) Shoots or throws anything at, into, or any vehicle, ship, or aircraft; or

(d) Causes anything to come in contact with any vehicle, ship, or aircraft; or

(e) Does any other unlawful act, or wilfully omits to do any act which it is his duty to do, in respect of any each place, area of water, or property as aforesaid, or in respect of any vehicle, ship, or aircraft.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years who, intentionally and in a manner likely to injure or endanger the safety of any person, does any of the acts referred to in subsection (1) of this section.

226. Impeding rescue - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years who, without lawful justification or excuse prevents or impedes or attempts to prevent or impede any person who is attempting to save his own life or the life of any other person.

(2) No one is guilty of an offence against this section who does any such act as aforesaid in the course of saving his own life or the life of any other person.

Bigamy, Feigned Marriage

227. Bigamy defined - (1) Bigamy is-

(a) The act of a person who, being married, goes through a form of marriage in the Cook Islands with a third person; or

(b) The act of a person who goes through a form of marriage in the Cook Islands with any other person whom he or she knows to be married; or

(c) The act of a person ordinarily resident in the Cook Islands, who, being married, goes through a form of marriage with a third person anywhere outside the Cook Islands; or

(d) The act of a person ordinarily resident in the Cook Islands, who goes through a form of marriage anywhere outside the Cook Islands with any other person whom he or she knows to be married.

(2) For the purposes of this section, -

(a) A form of marriage is any form of marriage recognised by the law of the Cook Islands, or by the law of the place where it is solemnised, as a valid form of marriage;

(b) No form of marriage shall be held to be an invalid form of marriage by reason of any act or omission of the person charged with bigamy, if it is otherwise a valid form.

(3) It shall not be a defence to a charge of bigamy to prove that if the parties were unmarried they would have been incompetent to contract marriage.

(4) No person commits bigamy by going through a form of marriage if that person-

(a) Has been continuously absent from his or her spouse for seven years then last past; and

(b) Is not proved to have known that his or her spouse was alive at any time during those seven years.

228. Punishment of bigamy - Every one who bigamy is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years:

Provided that if the Judge is satisfied that the person with whom the offender went through the form of marriage knew, at the time when the offence was committed, that the marriage would be void, the offender is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

229. Feigned marriage - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who goes through a form of marriage with any other person, knowing that the marriage will be void for any reason other than that one of the parties is already married:

Provided that if the Judge is satisfied that that other person knew, at the time when the offence was committed, that the marriage would be void, the offender is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years.

Abduction, Kidnapping

230. Abduction of woman or girl - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who takes away or detains any woman or girl, whether she is married or not, without her consent, or with her consent obtained by fraud or duress, with intent-

(a) To marry her or to have sexual intercourse with her; or

(b) To cause her to be married to or to have sexual intercourse with any other person.

231. Kidnapping - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who unlawfully carries off or detains any person without his consent, or with his consent obtained by fraud or duress, with intent-

- (a) To cause him to be confined or imprisoned; or
- (b) To cause him to be sent or taken out of the Cook Islands; or
- (c) To hold him for ransom or to service.

(2) A child under the age of sixteen years shall be deemed to be incapable of consenting to being carried off or detained.

(3) No one shall be convicted of an offence against this section who gets possession of any child, claiming in good faith a right to the possession of the child.

232. Abduction of child under sixteen - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who, with intent to deprive any parent or guardian or other person having the lawful care or charge of any child under the age of sixteen years of the possession of the child, or with intent to have sexual intercourse with any child being a girl under that age, unlawfully-

- (a) Takes or entices away or detains the child; or
- (b) Receives the child, knowing that the child has been so taken or enticed away or detained.

(2) It is immaterial whether or not the child consents, or is taken or goes at the child's own suggestion, or whether or not the offender believed the child to be of or over the age of sixteen.

(3) No one shall be convicted of an offence against this section who gets possession of any child, claiming in good faith a right to the possession of the child.

PART IX CRIMES AGAINST REPUTATION

233. Criminal libel and publishing defined - (1) A criminal libel is matter published, without lawful justification or excuse, either designed to insult any person or likely to injure his reputation by exposing him to hatred, contempt, or ridicule or likely to injure him in his profession, office, business, trade, or occupation, whether such matter is expressed by words, written or printed, or legibly marked on any substance, or by any object signifying such matter otherwise than by words, and whether expressed directly or by insinuation or irony.

(2) Publishing a criminal libel is-

- (a) Exhibiting it in public; or
- (b) Causing it to be read or seen, or showing or delivering it, or causing it to be shown or delivered, with a view to its being read or seen by any person other than the person defamed.

234. Publishing upon invitation - A person does not commit a crime by publishing defamatory matter on the invitation or challenge of the person defamed thereby, or if it is necessary to publish it in order to refute some other defamatory statement published by the last-mentioned person concerning the alleged offender, if such defamatory matter is believed to be true, and is relevant to the invitation or challenge or the required refutation, and if the publishing does not in manner or extent exceed what is reasonably sufficient for the occasion.

235. No prosecution without leave of Judge - (1) No prosecution for criminal libel shall be commenced without the leave of a Judge of the High Court.

(2) Notice of intention to apply for such leave shall be given to the person to be charged, who shall have an opportunity of being heard against the application.

236. Plea of Justification - (1) Every person accused of publishing a criminal libel may plead-

(a) That the defamatory matter published by him was true, or that he believed on reasonable grounds that it was true, or both; and

(b) That it was for the public benefit that the matters charged should, if true, be published in the manner in which and at the time when they were published.

(2) A plea under subsection (1) of this section may justify the defamatory matter in any sense in which it is specified in the information, or in the sense that it bears without being so specified; or separate pleas justifying it in each sense may be pleaded separately to each charge as if two libels had been charged in separate information.

(3) Every such plea shall be in writing, and shall set out the particular fact or facts by reason of which it is alleged that it was for the public benefit that the matter should be so published.

(4) The prosecutor may in his reply deny generally the truth of the plea.

(5) The truth of the matters charged in an alleged libel, and the belief of the accused in the truth thereof, shall not be inquired into in the absence of a plea of justification under this section:

Provided that, if the accused is charged with publishing the libel knowing it to be false, evidence of the truth or of such belief as aforesaid may be given in order to negative the allegation that the accused knew the libel to be false.

(6) In addition to a plea of justification under this section, the accused may plead not guilty; and the pleas shall be inquired into together

(7) Where justification is pleaded in accordance with this section and the accused is convicted, the Court, in pronouncing sentence, may consider whether his guilt is aggravated or mitigated by the plea.

(8) If on a plea of justification under this section the issue is found against the accused the prosecutor shall be entitled to recover from the accused the costs sustained by the prosecutor by reason of the plea.

(9) If the accused is acquitted he shall be entitled to recover from the prosecutor, if a private person, the costs sustained by the accused by reason of the prosecution, including the costs, if any, incurred in connection with the application for leave to prosecute under section 235 of this Act.

(10) The costs so to be recovered by the accused or by the prosecutor shall be taxed by the Registrar.

237. Punishment of criminal libel - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year who publishes any criminal libel.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years who publishes any criminal libel knowing it to be false.

238. Criminal slander - (1) Every one is guilty of criminal slander who, without lawful justification or excuse, uses any words that are likely to injure the reputation of any other person by exposing him to hatred, contempt, or ridicule, or likely to injure him in his profession, office, business, trade, or occupation, if the words are-

(a) Spoken, or reproduced from a recording, within the hearing of more than twelve persons at a meeting to which the public are invited or have access, or within the hearing of more than twelve persons in any place to which the public have or are permitted to have access; or

(b) Broadcast by means of radio or television.

(2) The provisions of sections 234 to 237 of this Act shall apply, so far as they are applicable and with the necessary modifications, to criminal slander:

Provided that no prosecution for criminal slander shall be commenced under this Act unless the application to the Judge for leave, under section 235 of this Act, is made to a Judge within two months after the commission of the alleged offence.

PART X CRIMES AGAINST RIGHTS OF PROPERTY

Theft

239. Things capable of being stolen - Every inanimate thing whatsoever, and every thing growing out of the earth, which is the property of any person, and either is or may be made movable, is capable of being stolen as soon as it becomes movable, although it is made movable in order to steal it.

240. Theft of electricity - Electricity is hereby declared to be a thing capable of being stolen; and every one commits theft who fraudulently abstracts, consumes, or uses any electricity.

241. Animals capable of being stolen - (1) All tame living creatures, whether tame by nature or wild by nature and tamed, are capable of being stolen; but tame pigeons are capable of being stolen so long only as they are in a dovecote or on their owner's land.

(2) All living creatures wild by nature, such as are not commonly found in a condition of natural liberty in the Cook Islands are, if kept in a state of confinement, capable of being stolen, not only while so confined, but after they have escaped from confinement.

(3) All other living creatures wild by nature are, if kept in a state of confinement, capable of being stolen so long as they remain in confinement, or are being actually pursued after escaping therefrom, but no longer.

(4) A wild living creature shall be deemed to be in a state of confinement so long as it is in a den, cage, small enclosure, sty, or tank, or is otherwise so situated that it cannot escape and that its owner can take possession of it at pleasure.

(5) Oysters and oyster-brood are capable of being stolen when in oyster-beds, oyster farms, layings, and fisheries that are the property of any person and are sufficiently marked out or known as such property.

(6) Wild creatures in the enjoyment of their natural liberty are not capable of being stolen, nor shall the taking of their dead bodies by or by the orders of the person who killed them be deemed to be theft.

(7) Everything produced by or forming part of any living creature capable of being stolen is capable of being stolen.

242 Theft defined - (1) Theft or stealing is the act of intentionally and dishonestly taking, or intentionally and dishonestly converting to the use of any person, anything capable of being stolen, with intent-

(a) To deprive the owner, or any person having any special property or interest therein, permanently of such thing or of such property or interest; or

(b) To pledge the same or deposit it as security; or

(c) To part with it under a condition as to its return which the person parting with it may be unable to perform; or

(d) To deal with it in such a manner that it cannot be restored in the condition in which it was at the time of such taking or conversion.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1) of this section, the term "taking" does not include obtaining property in or possession of anything with the consent of the person from whom it is obtained, although that consent may be induced by a false pretence; but a subsequent conversion of anything of which possession only is so obtained may be theft.

(3) It is immaterial whether the thing converted was taken for the purpose of conversion or whether it was at the time of the conversion in the possession of the person converting.

(4) Theft is committed when the offender moves the thing, or causes it to move or to be moved, with intent to steal it.

(5) A factor or agent is not guilty of theft by pledging or giving a lien on any goods or document of title to goods entrusted to him for the purpose of sale or otherwise for any sum of money not greater than the amount due to him from his principal at the time of pledging or giving a lien on the same, together with the amount of any bill of exchange or promissory note accepted or made by him for or on account of his principal.

(6) A servant who, contrary to the orders of master, takes from his possession any food for the purpose of giving it or having it given to any horse or other animal belonging to or in the possession of his master is not by reason thereof guilty of theft.

243. Theft of animals - Every one commits theft and steals the creature killed who kills any living creature capable of being stolen, with intent to steal its carcass, skin, or plumage, or any part of it.

244. Theft by person required to account - Every one commits theft who, having received any money or valuable security or other thing whatsoever on terms requiring him to account for or pay it, or the proceeds of it, or any part of such proceeds, to any other person though not requiring him to deliver over in specie the identical money, valuable security or other thing received, dishonestly converts to his own use or dishonestly omits to account for or pay the same or any part thereof, or to account for or pay such proceeds or any part thereof, which he was required to account for or pay as aforesaid:

Provided that if it is part of the said terms that the money or other thing received, or the proceeds thereof, shall form an item in a debtor and creditor account between the person receiving it and the person to whom he is to account for or pay the same, and that such last-mentioned person shall rely only on the personal liability of the other as his debtor in respect thereof, the proper entry of the amount of the money or proceeds or any part thereof in that account shall be a sufficient accounting for the amount so entered; and in such case no dishonest conversion of the amount accounted for shall be deemed to have taken place.

245. Theft by person holding power of attorney - Every one commits theft who, being entrusted, either solely or jointly with any power of attorney for the sale, mortgage, pledge, or other disposition of any real or personal property, whether it is capable of being stolen or not, dishonestly sells, mortgages, pledges, or otherwise disposes of the property or any part thereof, or dishonestly converts the proceeds of any part of the property, to some purpose other than that for which he was entrusted with the power of attorney.

246. Theft by misappropriating proceeds held under direction - Everyone commits theft who, having received, either solely or jointly with any other person, any money or valuable security, or any power of attorney for the sale of any real or personal property, with a direction that the money or any part thereof, or the proceeds or any part of the proceeds of the security or property, shall be applied to any purpose or paid to any person specified in the direction, in violation of good faith and contrary to the direction, dishonestly applies to any other purpose or pays to any other person the money or proceeds, or any part thereof:

Provided that where the person receiving the money, security, or power of attorney, and the person from whom he receives it, deal with each other on such terms that all money paid to the former would, in the absence of any such direction, be properly treated as an item in a debtor and creditor account between them, this section shall not apply unless the direction is in writing.

247. Theft by co-owner - Theft may be committed-

- (a) By the owner of anything capable of being stolen against a person having a special property or interest therein; or
- (b) By a person having a special property or interest in any such thing against the owner thereof; or
- (c) By a lessee against his reversion; or
- (d) By one of several joint owners or tenants in common of, or partners in, any such thing against the other persons interested therein; or
- (e) By any director, officer, or member of any body corporate against that body corporate.

248. Theft by husband or wife - (1) It is not theft for a husband or a wife to take or convert or otherwise deal with the property of his or her spouse, unless they are living apart from each other.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in subsection (1) of this section, every one commits theft who, while a husband and wife are living together, knowingly assists either of them in dealing with anything that is the property of the other in a manner that would amount to theft if they were not married.

249. Punishment of theft - Every one who commits theft is liable to the following punishment:

- (a) To imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years if the theft is one to which section 244 (which relates to theft by a person required to account) or section 245 (which relates to theft by an attorney) or section 246 (which relates to theft by misappropriation) of this Act applies;

(b) To imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years if the object stolen is-

(i) A testamentary instrument, whether it is stolen during the testator's life or after his death;

(ii) Anything stolen by a clerk or servant which belongs to or is in the possession of his employer;

(iii) Anything in the possession of the offender as a clerk or servant, or as an officer of the Government or of any Island Council, or as a constable;

(iv) Anything stolen from the person of another;

(v) Anything stolen from a dwellinghouse;

(vi) Anything stolen from a separate receptacle, locked or otherwise secured;

(viii)[sic] Anything exceeding in value the sum of forty dollars;

(c) To imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year if the theft is one for which no other punishment is prescribed by this Act, and if the object stolen exceeds in value the sum of ten dollars;

(d) To imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months if the theft is one for which no other punishment is prescribed by this Act, and if the object stolen does not exceed in value the sum of ten dollars.

Crimes Resembling Theft

250. Conversion or attempted conversion of motorcars, etc. - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years who, intentionally and dishonestly, but not so as to be guilty of theft, takes or converts to his use or to the use of say other person any of the following things, namely:

(a) Any motorcar, or any vehicle of any description;

(b) Any ship;

(c) Any aircraft;

(d) Any part of any motorcar, vehicle, ship, or aircraft;

(e) Any horse, mare, or gelding.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years who attempts to commit the offence referred to in subsection (1) of this section, or who, intentionally and dishonestly interferes with or gets into or upon or attempts to get into or upon any of the things referred to in paragraphs (a) to (d) of that subsection.

(3) In addition to imposing any penalty for an offence against this section the convicting Court may order the person convicted of the offence to pay to the owner of any thing or animal destroyed or damaged, by way of compensation for the destruction or damage, a sum not exceeding the amount of the loss suffered by him. The making or enforcement of an order under this subsection shall not affect the right of the owner or of any other person to recover by civil proceedings any damages in excess of the sum recovered under the order.

- (a) Being by law required to certify that any entry has been made in any such register as is mentioned in section 299 of this Act, makes such certificate knowing that the entry has not been made;
- (b) Being by law required to make any statement, or a certificate or declaration, concerning any particular required for the purpose of making entries in any such registers knowingly makes such statement falsely, or makes any such certificate or declaration knowing the same to contain a falsehood;
- (c) Being an officer having custody of the records of any Court, or being the deputy of any such officer, wilfully utters a false copy or certificate of any record;
- (d) Being an officer required or authorised by law to make or issue a certified copy of any document, or a certified extract from any document, wilfully certifies as a true copy of any document or as a true extract from any document any writing which he knows to be untrue in any material particular.

302. Forging certificates - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who,-

- (a) Not being an officer, or deputy of an officer, having custody of the records of any Court, fraudulently signs or certifies any copy or certificate of any record, or any copy of any certificate, as if he were such an officer or deputy;
- (b) Not being an officer required or authorised by law to make or issue a certified copy of any document, or a certified extract from any document, fraudulently signs or certifies any copy of any document, or any extract from any document, as if he were such an officer.

303 Imitating authorised marks - Every one is liable to imprisonment for term not exceeding five years who, with intent to defraud or deceive counterfeits or imitates any mark, word, or description which under law is impressed upon or otherwise made or written upon or affixed to any chattel, or upon or to anything containing or connected with any chattel, for the purpose of denoting the quality of that chattel or the fact that it has been tested or examined and approved by or under the authority of any Island Council or public body, or by any public officer.

304. Imitating customary marks - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years who, with intent to defraud or deceive, counterfeits or imitates any mark, word or description impressed or otherwise made or written upon or affixed to any chattel, or upon or to anything containing or connected with any chattel, which mark, word, or description is by recognised practice understood to denote that the thing upon or to which it is impressed, made, written, or affixed has been examined and certified to be of a particular quality by any particular officer or person, whether that officer or person is or is not authorised by law so to certify.

Coinage

305. Interpretation - (1) For the purposes of this section and of section 306 to 315 of this Act,-

"Counterfeit coin" includes any coin which has been gilt, silvered, washed, coloured, or cased over, or in any manner altered, so as to resemble any current coin of a higher denomination;

"Current coin" means coin of any substance whatsoever lawfully current in the Cook Islands or in any other country.

(2) For the purposes aforesaid,-

(a) A thing shall be deemed to be in the possession of any person if he has it in his personal custody or possession, or if he knowingly and wilfully has it in the actual custody or possession of any other person, or in some place (whether occupied by himself or not), for the use or benefit of himself or of any other person;

(b) A coin apparently intended to resemble or pass for any current coin shall be deemed to resemble that current coin.

306. Preparations for coining - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years who, without lawful justification or excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on him), knowingly makes or mends, or begins or proceeds to make or mend, or buys or sells or has in his possession, any puncheon, counter-puncheon, matrix, stamp, die, pattern, or mould in or upon which there is made or impressed, or which will make or impress, or which is adapted and intended to make or impress, the figure, stamp, or apparent resemblance of both or either of the sides of any current coin, or any part of both or either of those sides.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years who, without lawful justification or excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on him), makes or mends, or begins or proceeds to make or mend, or buys or sells, or has in his possession-

(a) Any edger, edging or other tool, collar, instrument, or engine adapted and intended for the marking of coin round the edges with letters, grainings, or other marks or figures apparently resembling those on the edges of any current coin, knowing it to be so adapted and intended as aforesaid; or

(b) Any press for coinage, or any cutting engine for cutting, by force of a screw or of any other contrivance, round blanks out of any metal or other substance, or any other machine, knowing the press to be a press for coinage or knowing the engine or machine to have been used or to be intended to be used for the false making or counterfeiting of any current coin.

307. Counterfeiting coin - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years who falsely makes or counterfeits any coin resembling any current coin.

(2) This offence shall be deemed to be complete although the coin made or counterfeited is not in a fit state to be uttered or the making or counterfeiting thereof has not been finished or perfected.

308. Altering coin - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years who gilds or silvers, or with any wash or materials capable of producing the colour or appearance of gold or silver or by any means whatsoever washes, cases over, or colours,-

(a) Any coin whatsoever resembling any current coin; or

(b) Any current coin, with intent to make it resemble or pass for any other current coin; or

(c) Any substance, being of a fit nature, size, and figure to be coined, with intent that it shall be coined into a counterfeit coin resembling any current coin.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years who files or in any manner alters any current coin with intent to make it resemble or pass for any other current coin.

309. Impairing coin - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who impairs, diminishes, or lightens any current coin with intent that the coin so impaired, diminished, or lightened may pass for a current coin.

(2) Every person is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years who unlawfully has in his possession any filing or clipping, or any gold or silver bullion, or any metal or other substance in dust, solution, or otherwise, which has been produced or obtained by impairing, diminishing, or lightening any current coin, knowing that it has been so produced or obtained.

310. Defacing coin - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year who-

(a) Defaces any current coin by stamping thereon any names, words, or figures, whether the coin is or is not thereby diminished or lightened; or

(b) Utters any current coin, knowing it to have been so defaced.

311. Melting coin - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year who, without the consent of the Minister of Finance (the proof whereof shall lie on the person charged), melts down, breaks up, or uses otherwise than as currency any current coin.

(2) Notwithstanding any thing in subsection (1) of this section, where any person suspects that any coin tendered to him as current coin has been diminished otherwise than by reasonable wear, or that it is counterfeit, it shall be lawful for him to break the coin. If the coin, when so broken, appears to have been diminished otherwise than by reasonable wear, or to be counterfeit, the person tendering it shall bear the loss; but if it is of due weight and appears to be current coin, the person breaking it shall receive it at the rate it was coined for. In this subsection, references to breaking include references to cutting, bending, and defacing.

312. Possessing counterfeit coin - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year who has in his possession any counterfeit coin resembling any current coin, knowing it to be counterfeit, with intent to utter it.

313. Uttering counterfeit coin - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years who-

(a) Utters any counterfeit coin resembling any current coin, knowing it to be counterfeit; or

(b) With intent to defraud, utters as current coin any coin which is not current coin, or any medal or piece of metal or other substance.

314. Buying and selling counterfeit coin - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who, without lawful justification or excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on him), buys, sells, receives, pays, or puts off, or offers to buy, sell, receive, pay, or put off, any counterfeit coin resembling any current coin at or for a lower rate or value than the counterfeit coin imports, or apparently is intended to import.

(2) An offence against this section shall be deemed to be complete although the coin bought, sold, received, paid, or put off, or offered to be bought, sold, received, paid, or put off is not in a fit state to be uttered, or the counterfeiting thereof has not been finished or perfected.

315. Importing and exporting counterfeit coin - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who, without lawful justification, or excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on him),-

(a) Imports or receives into the Cook Islands any counterfeit coin resembling any current coin, knowing it to be counterfeit; or

(b) Exports from the Cook Islands, or puts on board any ship or aircraft for the purpose of being so exported, any counterfeit coin resembling any current coin, knowing it to be counterfeit.

Criminal Damage

316. What constitutes criminal damage - (1) For the purposes of sections 317 to 328 of this Act, every one who causes any event by an act which he knew would probably cause it, being reckless whether that event happens or not, shall be deemed to have caused it wilfully.

(2) Nothing shall be an offence against any of the provisions of those sections unless it is done without lawful justification or excuse, and without colour of right.

(3) Where the act done results in the destruction of or any damage to anything in which the person charged has an interest, whether total or partial, the existence of that interest shall not prevent his act being a crime if it is done with intent to defraud or to cause loss to any other person. For the purposes of this subsection, where any property is subject to any mortgage or charge, each of the parties to the mortgage or charge shall be deemed to have a partial interest in that property.

317. Arson - Every one commits arson and is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who wilfully sets fire to, or damages by means of any explosive,-

(a) Any building, erection, or structure or any ship or aircraft, or any well of any combustible substance, or any mine, or any bush, forest, or plantation; or

(b) Any property, whether he has an interest in it or not, if he knows or ought to know that danger to life is likely to ensue.

318. Attempted arson - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years who attempts to commit arson, or who wilfully sets fire to, or damages by means of any explosive, any property, whether he has an interest in it or not knowing that any property mentioned in paragraph (a) of section 317 of this Act is likely to catch fire or be damaged in consequence thereof.

319. Damage to other property by fire or explosive - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who wilfully sets fire to, or damages by means of any explosive, any property other than that mentioned in paragraph (a) of section 317 of this Act.

320. Attempt to damage property by fire or explosive- Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years who attempts to commit any offence specified in section 319 of this Act, or who wilfully sets fire to or damages by means of any explosive his own property, knowing that any property other than that mentioned in paragraph (a) of section 317 of this Act is likely to catch fire or be damaged in consequence thereof.

321. Wilful damage - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who wilfully destroys or damages-

(a) Any property, whether he has an interest in it or not, if he knows or ought to know that danger to life is likely to ensue; or

(b) Any road, railway, bridge, tunnel, or similar means of communication, or any aerodrome, wharf, quay, or jetty, if he knows or ought to know that it is thereby likely to be rendered dangerous, impassable, or unusable[sic];

(c) Any power station or gas works, or any building, erection, or structure, or any equipment, line, cable, or pipe, used for or in connection with the production, transmission, or distribution of electricity or gas, if he knows or ought to know that the supply of electricity or gas is thereby likely to be affected.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who wilfully destroys or damages-

(a) Any stopbank, wall, dam, or sluice gate, or any pumping station or pumping equipment, or any other works, if the destruction or damage causes actual danger of flooding; or

(b) Any container, building, erection, or structure used for the storage of bulk supplies of gas or liquid fuel.

(3) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who wilfully destroys or damages any rare or irreplaceable book, manuscript, original painting, etching, engraving, print, or other work of art, or any rare or irreplaceable article kept for purposes of art or science.

(4) Everyone who wilfully destroys or damages any property in any case not provided for elsewhere in this Act, shall be liable to-

(a) Imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year where the value of the property destroyed or damage done, does not exceed fifty dollars;

(b) Imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years where the value of the property destroyed or damage done, exceeds fifty dollars.

[Amended Act 1972/4]

322. Wilful waste or diversion of water, gas, or electricity - Every one imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years who, wilfully and with intent to cause loss or harm to any other person, wastes or diverts, or causes to be wasted or diverted, any water, gas, or electricity, not being water, gas, or electricity that he has, or honestly believes he has, a legal right to use.

323. Interfering with means of transport - (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who, with intent to cause danger to property,-

(a) Removes anything from or places anything on, in, over, or under any place, or any area of water, that is used for or in connection with the carriage of persons or of goods by land, water, or air; or

(b) Does anything to any property that is used for or in connection with the carriage of persons or of goods by land, water, or air; or

(c) Shoots or throws anything at, into, or upon any vehicle, ship, or aircraft; or

(d) Causes anything to come in contact with any vehicle, ship, or aircraft; or

(e) Does any other unlawful act, or wilfully omits to do any act which it is his duty to do, in respect of any such place, area of water, or property as aforesaid, or in respect of any vehicle, ship, or aircraft.

(2) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years who, intentionally and in a manner likely to cause danger to property, does any of the acts referred to in subsection (1) of this section.

324. Wrecking - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen years who-

(a) Casts away or destroys any ship or aircraft, whether complete or unfinished; or

(b) Does any act tending to the immediate loss or destruction of any ship or aircraft in distress, whether or not he has an interest in the ship or aircraft; or

(c) Interferes with any marine or aeronautical mark, light, signal, or equipment used for the guidance or control of ships or aircraft, or exhibits or transmits any false mark, light, or signal, with intent to bring any ship or aircraft into danger, whether or not he has an interest in the ship or aircraft.

325. Attempting to wreck - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years who attempts to cast away or destroy any ship or aircraft, whether complete or unfinished.

326. Interfering with signals, etc. - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who destroys, damages, alters, removes, or conceals, or attempts to destroy, damage, alter, remove, or conceal, any mark, light, signal, or equipment used for the guidance or control of ships or aircraft.

327. Interfering with mines - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who, with intent to damage a mine or obstruct the working thereof,-

- (a) Causes water to run into the mine or any subterranean channel communicating therewith; or
- (b) Damages any shaft or any passage of the mine; or
- (c) Damages, with intent to render useless, any apparatus, building, bridge, or road belonging to the mine, whether the object damaged is complete or not; or
- (d) Hinders the working of any such apparatus;
- (e) Damages or unfastens, with intent to render useless, any rope, chain, or tackle used in any mine, or upon any way or work connected therewith.

328. Providing explosive to commit crime - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years who knowingly has in his possession or makes any explosive substance, or any dangerous engine, instrument, or thing, with intent thereby to commit, or for the purpose of enabling any other person to commit, a crime.

328A. [Repealed]

[Repealed Act 1989/33]

PART XI THREATENING, CONSPIRING, AND ATTEMPTING TO COMMIT OFFENCES

329. Threatening to kill or do grievous bodily harm - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years who -

- (a) Threatens to kill or do grievous bodily harm to any person; or
- (b) Sends or causes to be received, knowing the contents thereof, any letter or writing containing any threat to kill or do grievous bodily harm to any person.

330. Threatening to destroy property - (1) Everyone is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years who sends or causes to be received, knowing the contents thereof, any letter or writing threatening to destroy or damage any property, or to destroy or injure any animal.

(2) Nothing shall be an offence against subsection (1) of this section unless it is done without lawful justification or excuse, and without colour of right.

331. Threatening acts - Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years who, with intent to intimidate or annoy any person, -

- (a) Breaks or damages or threatens to break or damage any dwellinghouse; or

(b) By the discharge of firearms or otherwise, alarms or attempts to alarm any person in any dwellinghouse.

332. Conspiring to prevent collection of rates or taxes - Everyone is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years who conspires with any person by force or intimidation to prevent the collection of any rates or taxes the levying and collection of which is authorised by law.

333. Conspiring to commit offence - (1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, every one who conspires with any person to commit any offence, or to do or omit, in any part of the world, anything of which the doing or omission in the Cook Islands would be an offence, is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years if the maximum punishment for that offence exceeds seven years' imprisonment, and in any other case is liable to the same punishment as if he had committed that offence.

(2) This section shall not apply where a punishment for the conspiracy is otherwise expressly prescribed by this Act or by some other enactment.

(3) Where under this section any one is charged with conspiring to do or omit anything anywhere outside the Cook Islands it is a defence to prove that the doing or omission of the act to which the conspiracy relates was not an offence under the law of the place where it was, or was to be, done or omitted.

334. Attempt to commit or procure commission of offence - (1) Every one who attempts to commit any offence in respect of which no punishment for the attempt is expressly prescribed by this Act or by some other enactment is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years if the maximum punishment for that offence is imprisonment for life, and in any other case is liable to not more than half the maximum punishment to which he would have been liable if he had committed that offence.

(2) Every one who incites, counsels, or attempts to procure any person to commit any offence, when that offence is not in fact committed, is liable to the same punishment as if he had attempted to commit that offence, unless in respect of any such case a punishment is otherwise expressly provided by this Act or by some other enactment.

335. Accessory after the fact to crime - Every one who is accessory after the fact to any crime punishable by imprisonment, being a crime in respect of which no express provision is made by this Act or by some other enactment for the punishment of an accessory after the fact, is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years if the maximum punishment for that crime is imprisonment for life, and not exceeding five years if such maximum punishment is imprisonment for ten or more years; and in any other case is liable to not more than half the maximum punishment to which he would have been liable if he had committed the crime.

PART XII PROCEDURE

336.-411. [Repealed]

[Repealed Act 1980-81/28.]

[Amendment of Act 1991/7 ineffective]

PART XIII MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

412.-413. [Repealed]

[Repealed Act 1980-81/28]

414. Costs - (1) Where any person is convicted by the Court of any offence, the Court may order the offender to pay such sum as it thinks just and reasonable towards the costs of the prosecution.

(2) Where on the arrest of the offender any money was taken from him the Court may in its discretion order the whole or any part of the money to be applied to any such payment.

(3) Where any person is acquitted by the Court of any offence, the Court may order the prosecutor to pay to that person such sum as it thinks just and reasonable towards the costs of his defence.

(4) Any order for payment, under this section, upon being filed in the Court, shall have the effect of a judgment.

415. Compensation for loss of property - (1) On the conviction of any person for any offence the Court may order the offender to pay to any person such sum as it thinks fit by way of compensation for any loss of or damage to property suffered by that person through or by means of the offence.

(2) Where on the arrest of the offender any money was taken from him the Court may in its discretion order the whole or any part of the money to be applied to any such payment.

(3) Any order for payment under this section may be enforced in the same manner as a fine.

(4) An order under this section shall not affect the right of any person to recover by civil proceedings any sum in excess of the amount recovered under the order.

416. Restitution of property - (1) Where any one is convicted of any offence, any property found in his possession, or in the possession of any other person for him, may be ordered by the Court to be delivered to the person who appears to the Court to be entitled thereto.

(2) Where an order is made under subsection (1) of this section, and it appears to the Court that a purchaser has bought the property in good faith and without knowledge that it was dishonestly obtained, the Court may order that on the restitution of the property the offender shall pay to the purchaser a sum not exceeding the amount paid by him. The provisions of subsections (2) to (4) of section 415 of this Act shall apply to any such order.

(3) Where any one is convicted of having stolen or dishonestly obtained any property, and it appears to the Court that the property has been pawned to a pawnbroker, the Court may order the pawnbroker to deliver it to the person appearing to the Court to be entitled to it, either on payment or without payment to the pawnbroker of the amount of the loan or any part thereof, as the Court in all the circumstances of the case deems just:

Provided that before an order is made for the delivery of the property without payment to the pawnbroker, he shall be given an opportunity to be heard.

(4) If the person in whose favour any order under subsection (3) of this section is made thereby obtains the property, he shall not afterwards question the validity of the pawn.

(5) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, no order made under this section shall have any further effect than to change the possession, and no such order shall prejudice any right of property, or any right of action in respect of any property, existing or acquired in the goods either before or after the offence was committed.

417. Civil remedy not suspended - No civil remedy for any act or omission shall be suspended by reason that such act or omission amounts to an offence.

418. Act to bind the Crown - This Act shall bind the Crown.

419. Regulations - (1) The High Commissioner may from time to time, by Order in Executive Council, make all such regulations as may in his opinion be necessary or expedient for giving full effect to the provisions of this Act and for the due administration thereof.

(2) All regulations made under this section shall be laid before the Legislative Assembly within twenty-eight days after the date of the making thereof if the Legislative Assembly is then in session, and if not, shall be laid before the Legislative Assembly within twenty-eight days after the date of the commencement of the next ensuing session.

420. Amendments, repeals and revocation - (1) The Cook Islands Act 1915 is hereby amended in the manner indicated in the Second Schedule to this Act.

(2) The enactments specified in the Third Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed.

(3) Rule 87 of the Rules of the High Court 1916 is hereby revoked.
